Rasmussen College

Founded in 1900 in St. Paul, Minnesota the Rasmussen College community includes 21 campuses and more than 40 diverse online degree programs available to students around the globe. Their goal was to consolidate different, but codependent divisions that were previously spread throughout different floors and buildings in order to increase the productivity and effectiveness of these numerous departments.

Rasmussen wanted to standardize their furniture systems with a single supplier that was flexible and could adapt to accommodate future growth. Tayco was chosen for their ability to deliver quality furnishings with a range of applications. Tayco's Cosmopolitan system was able to meet the high-tech power and data requirements yet could reconfigure easily to changes, while Metropolis offered a level of sophistication to private offices. Tayco was able to accommodate ever changing office floor plans and installation schedules in order to stay ahead of a fast track design/build schedule with no downtime or disruption to workers.
