ECHO

Echo is Tayco's innovative acoustic solution designed to enhance sound quality and visual appeal across open offices, meeting rooms, and collaborative environments. Made from recycled PET, Echo elements offer flexible, high-performance acoustic support while contributing to sustainable design.

From modesty panels and dividers to wall tiles and tackboards, Echo delivers a wide range of products that reduce noise, improve focus, and elevate workspace design. Whether you need privacy between desks, sound control in shared spaces, or colourful options for visual expression, Echo brings acoustic comfort and modern versatility together in one dynamic collection.

Acoustical

Engineered to minimize reverberation and reduce echo for a quieter interior environment.

Tackable

Durable, impact resistant panels designed for versatile functionality.

Refined

A sturdy yet soft to the touch material, combining durability with a sleek, modern finish.

Environmental

50-90% of recycled content.

Content

100% polyester fiber.

1/2"

Echo's strength lies in its adaptability. Choose from desktop and freestanding screens for mobile privacy, integrated wire managers and bag drops for under-desk organization, or hanging and wall-mounted tackboards that double as both creative and acoustic features.

The collection also includes mobile screens with optional whiteboards ideal for meeting areas and PET-integrated table bases in six vibrant colours. These bases complement a variety of tabletop shapes and sizes, offering both powered and non-powered options for lounges, collaborative zones, or conference settings.

With Echo, every element is crafted to improve acoustics while supporting flexible, beautifully organized workspaces.
